

Compost With Us!

Why:
New green taxes are causing farmers and citizens to re-evaluate food waste, and what to do with it.

At the same time, more and more people are living in small city apartments. With little space for urban gardens, and even more neighbors to complain about your stinking compost, it has been harder then ever to tackle food waste.

How Does It Work:
Our company uses a freezer based storage bin to collect your household compost, monitor its “nutrition” and give you suggestions on what to add. Our app also allows you to monitor the “health” of your compost (good compost has a certain PH and nitrate values).

When your box is full simply drop it off at one of our hubs (found in your local supermarket) and pick up a new bin. Our trucks come buy to empty the hubs once a week.

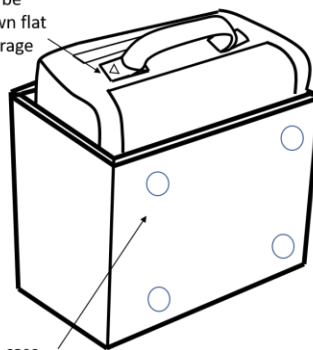

What’s In It For Me
You earn cash for every “healthy” pound you collect, because we can sell that same pound to farmers across the US.

You can also log what you have composted, and the app will help you monitor your habits to help you stop buying uneaten food.

Think of this app as not only helping the earth, but improving your habits as well!

Upright models available for pull out freezers, large freezer boxes, or families of 4+

Handle can be pushed down flat for easy storage

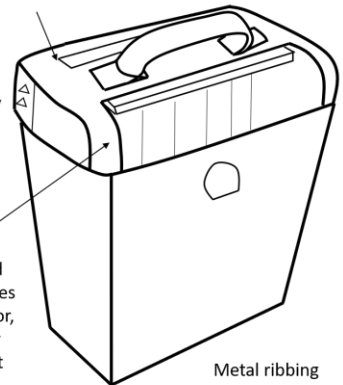

Outside case suction cups to freezer wall

Information panel lets you know about the “health” of your compost

Screen and lights powered by batteries (push up on this door to reveal battery pack)

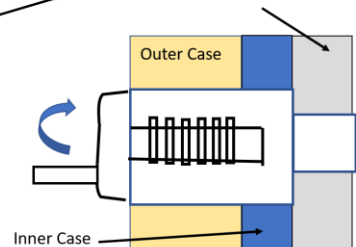

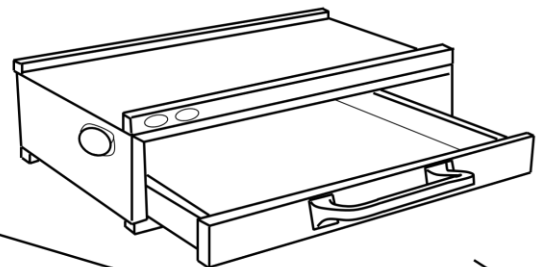

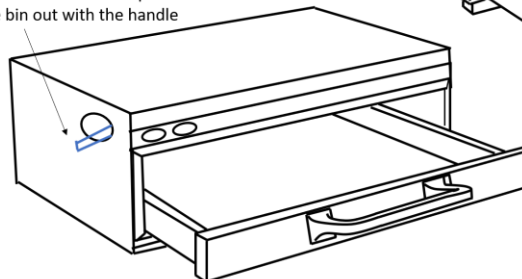

Motion sensor lid opens when it sees you open the door, or you wave your hand in front of it

Metal ribbing along the inside of the case allows us to monitor the PH levels

Stacking models are also available for traditional freezers and small apartments.

To remove the inner bin without opening the door pull the latch out of the knob. Use the latch to screw in the knob. Release the latch and pull the bin out with the handle

Save the earth, your wallet, your roommate’s nose!